

ABSTRACT

An atmospheric element acupuncture monitor having a negative ion generator, a feed back unit for measuring and controlling the exposure and dose to an object to be treated, a cable for maintaining the potential of the object, and an insulative cover.